School Guide

For teacher / counselor / school nurse or admin. School staff do not diagnose.

CA II deficiency is rare. The child may have RTA and osteopetrosis/bone fragility depending on individual presentation.

School themes

- Lethargy/fatigue ≠ automatically laziness
- Medical absences may occur
- Social attachment/anxiety may occur
- Behavior may vary
- Avoid labeling as spoiled or badly behaved
- Protect from fights/pushing
- Safe participation rather than total exclusion
- Extra supervision during high-excitement activities
- Report falls/injuries/pain to the family

Psychological support at school

- ☐ Gradual participation ☐ Calm encouragement ☐ School counselor when needed ☐ Do not force sudden participation
- ☐ Contact family when a significant change occurs

What helps this child when anxious?

Educational and organizational only. Does not diagnose, set doses, or replace a clinician. What you notice at home is not the same as what is in the medical record, and not the same as what the doctor decides.
